

INDUSTRIALISTS HOLD A COUNCIL REGARDING PLANS

President Turns to Leaders
For Further Assurance of Sound Business

DISTINGUISHED GROUP

Conferees' Co-operation In Maintenance of Good
Conditions Sought

By George R. Holmes
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—President Hoover turned to the industrial leaders of the country today for further assurance that American business is basically too sound to be disturbed in any vital way by the speculative gyrations of the stock market.

Already assured that agriculture is in good shape and that the railroads of the country are proceeding full steam ahead with improvements and expansions, the President summoned to the White House today a score of leading industrialists for counsel as to their future plans, and to enlist their services in the national effort to keep business on a steady keel during the period of unsettlement brought about by the decline in securities' prices.

The list of the President's conferees read like an industrial blue book of America.

Coming into the capital this morning were leaders in the automotive industry, such as Henry Ford and Alfred P. Sloan, president of General Motors; there were the kings of the utilities business such as Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of General Electric, and Walter Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph; merchants like Julius Rosenberg, of Sears & Roebuck; Samuel Reyburn, of Lord and Taylor, and Jesse L. Straus of Macy and Co.; there were steel representatives like Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the finance committee of the Steel Corporation, and George Laughlin of Jones and Laughlin of Pittsburgh; and many others whose names are by-words in Wall Street and the industrial marts of the country.

The company which Mr. Hoover gathered about the big table in the Cabinet room at the White House was by long odds the most distinguished, in a business way, that Washington has seen in many years. Most of them he knew personally, for as Secretary of Commerce he was wont to hold numerous conferences of like nature, seeking guidance and cooperation in the expansion of America's foreign trade.

Today, however, Mr. Hoover sought something more. He sought the cooperation of the industrial leaders in the maintenance of general business conditions on an even keel until by its own effort it can work itself free from the depressing effect of recent stock market declines.

On his own part, as President, Mr. Hoover assured his visitors that the government believes conditions are basically sound, and to them he pledged whole-hearted government cooperation in the expansion of exports.

PLANE TALK

By HARRY A. SUTTON
Of the Technical Staff,
The Aviation Corporation (Written Expressly for International News Service)

19.—Loops and Rolls.

Lowered nose, wide open throttle and increased speed precede the loop. As the machine gathers speed, the pilot gradually pulls back on the stick with an even movement, pulling the nose up and up in front of him until it is past the vertical and the plane is over on its back.

Just past the top of the loop, the engine may be partially throttled and the plane of its own speed permitted to complete the vertical circle. Gently, as it descends, the elevator is centered and as it glides off on level flight, the motor is again revved up.

It is much more of a strain on a plane to make the preliminary dive to steep. Better to gain speed in a gradual dive and then pull gently up into the loop. Similarly, emergence from the loop into level flight should be gradual and even. Loops are distinctly a high altitude maneuver and should never be attempted close to the ground.

A roll consists of a complete turn by the plane, wing-tip over wing-tip, around its longitudinal axis. Putting on speed, the pilot, to roll swiftly (snap roll), kicks on full rudder in the direction he wishes to roll, at the same time manipulating the stick to apply helpful aileron and elevator. A more leisurely roll may be made with less speed and slower movement of the controls.

Stunts and maneuvers of this nature are helpful in training properly coordinated use of the controls for normal flying.

(Landing will be discussed in tomorrow's chapter of Plane Talk.)

WILLIAM BURGESS DIES AT MORRISVILLE HOME

Former Federal Tariff Commission Member Was Lobby Probe Witness

SERVED AS CONSUL

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 21.—William Burgess, a former member of the United States Tariff Commission and the business representative of the United States Pottery Association in Washington, died at his home at Morris Heights yesterday, after an illness of about four days with pneumonia.

He was recently one of the main witnesses in the Senate probe of lobby conditions in Washington and the ordeal through which he passed and the criticism that was made of him in that connection are felt by his friends to have been contributing causes to his fatal illness. He was 72 years old.

Burgess was in Washington last Friday on business and returned to his home that evening. Upon his arrival he complained of a cold. On Saturday morning a serious case of pneumonia had developed and his condition grew constantly worse until his death.

He was much fatigued by the demands made upon him at Washington as a witness in the lobby probe and a cold contracted while in his weakened condition quickly developed complications.

Burgess was one of the best known men in the United States and England in the pottery industry, with which he was associated for many years as a manufacturer and later as its representative in matters in Washington, particularly those relating to the tariff.

He was generally regarded as a tariff expert and as such was named to the Federal Tariff Board a few years ago.

Burgess was appointed by President Harding to the United States Tariff Commission and served with success on that body, contributing valuable information and suggestions. He retired from that position in 1925 because of the illness of his wife.

In Harrison's administration, at the suggestion of the late President McKinley, he was sent to Stoke-on-Trent, England, the greatest pottery center in the world, as an American Consul. Since then he has made five confidential investigations into trade conditions in Europe for the Treasury Department.

The Bucks-Montgomery Bi-County Council Meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion, was held in the Community House in Morrisville, today.

A delicious luncheon was served at twelve o'clock, followed by an interesting meeting this afternoon.

The ladies attending the meeting from Bristol were: Mrs. Robert Downing, Mrs. Robert Clark, Sr., Mrs. Elizabeth Delker, Mrs. I. J. Hetherington, Mrs. William Griffith, Mrs. James Cullen, Mrs. David Beaton, Mrs. Willard Wilson, Mrs. John Brehm, Miss Bessie Rafferty, Miss Anna Cullen, Miss Agnes Beaton, all of Bristol, and Mrs. Frances Strauss, Mrs. Mary Lovett, and Mrs. Mather, of Tullytown.

BENSLEM TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL, Cornwells Heights, Nov. 21.—Latin and French clubs have been reorganized in the Benslem Township High School under the names of Laeti Latini and Le Cercle Francais.

With new names full of meaning, mottoes full of purpose, and officers and members full of life and ambition, both clubs are looking forward to a bright year.

Officers of the two clubs, Grace Barth, Mildred Marshall and Axel Kleinsorg, have conducted entertaining meetings so far. This week a Roman wedding was presented in Latin and English by members of the Sophomore class.

Le Cercle Francais regularly conducts its meetings in French. Active plans have begun for a delightful Christmas entertainment. The year's programs for both clubs have been outlined to provide educational profit and culture without forgetting fun and frolic.

At a meeting of the boys of the high school held last Wednesday, it was decided to form an athletic association, and a campaign was arranged for selling season tickets for all sports to take place during the balance of the term.

Students are working for 100 per cent sale among the boys, and it is thought a similar movement will be started soon among the girls.

This afternoon the committee appointed by the school board for the purpose of awarding contracts for the equipment for the new building will meet. This committee is composed of the secretary of the board, C. C. Markley; supervising principal, Samuel K. Faust; and the architect of the structure, A. O. Martin.

Various representatives of firms dealing in numerous items required have been invited to give demonstrations of their goods before the committee.

Bids for same were received at the last meeting of the directors, and the above named committee was empowered to place contracts for the needed equipment.

Work is progressive in fine manner upon the new building. The stones have been pointed. Plastering is about finished, and workmen are nearly ready to place the white coat. The concrete walk and steps are being placed at the front of the building, and the flag-pole has been placed in a conspicuous spot on the front portion of the grounds.

Book week is being well observed among the students of the school this week. Essays are being written upon the subject, "Ten Books I Would Like to Own and Why." A prize is offered to the one writing the best essay, pupils of the four upper classes of the high school competing. A poster contest is also based upon book week, and drawings in most cases. The poster contest is being taken part in by students of both the junior and senior high school. Prizes in the two contests are to be books. The best poster will be selected by the committee which meets this afternoon to let contracts for building equipment. The prizes will be awarded in assembly tomorrow afternoon, and the prize essay will be read.

Books are being read to the different English classes during the week also.

Members of the faculty, and the pupils, are glad to welcome at any time

Member Bucks County Bar

"When a man of the ability, energy and wide acquaintance and influence of Senator Buckman accepts the chairmanship of such an effort as ours it insures complete and final success."

The campaign period will extend to December 15. The amount, $53,000, which has been set as the objective, is needed to make possible the continuance of the work of the Council as well as to provide an expansion program. It also includes a substantial item for improvements at the Boy Scout camp at Annandale, N. J., known as Camp Buccoo. Of the total amount sought, $33,000 is for the budget expense for two years, and $20,000 for camp improvements.

TWO ARE HELD FOR TRIAL BEFORE COURT

Former Police Chief at Doylestown Charged With Imper-
sonating An Officer

SHIVELEY IS UNDER BAIL

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 21.—At a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. Carlile Hobensack on a charge of impersonating an officer and larceny, Martin E. Deshler, of Philadelphia, former Doylestown police chief, was released under $800 bail to appear at the December term of criminal court.

Deshler was arrested by Corporal Harry B. Welsh, of Langhorne State Highway Patrol, on the information of Abraham Newman, of Baltimore. Newman testified that he was stopped July 15 on the Lincoln Highway by Deshler, who displayed a badge and placed him under arrest. Newman said that he was taken to a hotel and there asked how much money he had. He said he produced some money and that Deshler took $25, leaving him with enough to return to Baltimore.

Newman further testified that Deshler told him he would send for him for a hearing if he was needed.

Norman Shiveley, 28, son of a Tinticum township constable, was released under $1,000 bail before Justice W. Carlile Hobensack to appear at the December term of criminal court on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill Mahlon Leichter, a farmer, of Upper Black Eddy.

At the hearing Shiveley admitted that he fired a shot from a double-barrelled 12-gauge shot gun "in the air," but not for the purpose of "killing Leichter." The shot, however, went through the back of Leichter's automobile as he was driving by the Shiveley residence.

Constable Shiveley, father of the defendant, testified that Leichter "drove by his home suspiciously a great number of times during the last two weeks" and that "he had a girl write letters to his son's wife in an effort to get her away from her husband."

"Nobody has a right to make funny faces and motions at me," Shiveley testified.

Justice Hobensack held Shiveley for court, remarking at the time that he did not see why Shiveley went to the extent of firing a shot at Leichter no matter how unbecoming and out of order Leichter's conduct might have been toward Mrs. Shiveley.

Leichter is married.

HIGH SPEED LOCOMOTIVES TO OPERATE THRU HERE

Pennsylvania to Place Order
For 150 Giant Engines To Speed 100 Miles an Hour

WILL CUT DOWN TIME

Electric locomotives capable of a maximum speed of between 90 and 100 miles an hour are to be placed in operation through Bristol when that section of the P. R. R. between New York and Philadelphia has been electrified.

The P. R. R. will soon place a $16,000,000 order for 150 electric locomotives of greater speed and unit power than any previously manufactured.

These locomotives are to be used between New York and Philadelphia and Washington. This new equipment will be part of the Pennsylvania's $100,000,000 electrification plan embracing the line between Philadelphia and Trenton, N. J., and between New Brunswick and Manhattan Transfer, N. J.

When the new locomotives are put into operation it is expected that the running time between New York and Washington will be cut from five to four hours or less and the running time between New York and Philadelphia will be reduced one-half hour.

With the improved equipment the P. R. R. plans to meet the fast-growing competition offered by motor cars and airplanes.

MOTHERS' ASS'N HAS BEEN ACTIVE IN SCHOOL'S BEHALF

Organization of About 100

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN

Hold Three Affairs During
Year to Raise Money
Needed

Organized about five years ago for the purpose of assisting in whatever manner possible the pupils of the Bristol public schools as well as the teachers, the Mothers' Association is today continuing its splendid work by making additional plans for the future.

With less than 100 names on its roster the association is to be congratulated upon the splendid pieces of work accomplished throughout the few years of its existence. A total of $1,987 has been expended.

There are conducted each year three main functions by which the mothers are able to raise money to assist with their work for the boys, girls and instructors. The annual supper, the main event, is attended by many of the townfolk, while the pie and cake sale, and the annual show in which the mothers take part are likewise well patronized.

A resume of the accomplishments of the organization will give a general idea of the wide scope of work covered by this group.

The sum of $350 was given toward a new piano for the school; while shortly after the organization began the sum of $32 was expended for curtain material for the stage formerly used. For the platform in the older portion of the high school building the mothers expended $56; while $58 was the sum invested in good books for benefit of pupils and teachers. Besides the money expended for books $188 was donated toward the high school library.

In conjunction with the Fathers' Association the Mothers' Association equipped the gymnasium, the latter's portion being $750. Some Florentine glass was placed in the "gym" at a cost of $120. The shades for the auditorium purchased by the Mothers cost $42. A rest-room for benefit of the girls and the teachers was fitted up at a cost of $50 by the organization. Window shades were provided for this room as well as a blanket, pillows, a rug and small pieces of furniture. A total of $315 in prizes has been awarded to students at commencement time. Besides these, drums were purchased for the orchestra. Through the Mothers' Association efforts a closet was built for the domestic science room, the cost of same being $28.

The mothers are at present planning to have the boys of the manual training department erect another closet for the domestic science department.

The members are not neglected as the organization goes about its work, as bouquets are sent to members who become ill.

Each year the group conducts a Christmas party, at which time each member takes a gift to be turned over to the Girl Reserves for their Christmas party for the unfortunate children of the town.

But three members have been lost during the existence of the association. All mothers of the town who are interested are welcome to join and assist with the work carried on. The women meet the second Wednesday evening of each month.

Present officers are: Mrs. John Hardy, president; Mrs. Herbert Hanson, vice-president; Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin, secretary; Mrs. Sylvester Brady, treasurer.

HULMEVILLE, Pa., Nov. 21.—An interesting business meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Hulmeville public school took place in the school house last evening, with Samuel J. Illick, president, in the chair. Twenty-three individuals were present.

Haeftner; membership, Miss Alice Stackhouse, Mrs. Joseph Everitt, Mrs. Craven; program, Mrs. Fred Gill, Mrs. Richard Hopkins, Mrs. Alvin Schoenfeld, Joseph Keen.

The problem of reference books was discussed, with a view to purchasing a new set.

Report was made by Mrs. Isaac Brooks relative to serving of hot lunches to the school children. Lunches are being served three days a week by Mrs. Brooks. Hot soup and hot cocoa being sold to the boys and girls for a very moderate price.

At the December meeting, pupils of the school will present a Christmas program.

REAL VS. PAPER VALUES

Hot upon the heels of the stock market crash came a thousand and one cure-alls and preventives advanced to prevent a recurrence. Most of the pet schemes border on the ridiculous, but M. H. Cahill, former president of the New York State Bankers' Association, is the author of a sensible suggestion.

The Cahill plan is that an approximation to the real value of securities, rather than a fictitious and wholly unreliable value set by stock market operations, should be the basis of appraisal of collateral pledged for loans. Specifically, he proposes that the yardstick of appraisal for collateral purposes shall be the latest quarterly statement of earnings in which the security participates, value to be estimated at not more than 20 times earnings, and loans not to exceed 75 or 80 per cent of the valuation thus fixed.

Chief among the arguments for such a practice are its effect in stabilizing market quotations and tendency to limit the use of credit for the purchase of speculative stocks. The principal obstacle to its general adoption is the fact that often market prices fall below the real value of the stocks, but this contingency could be provided for.

Some plan must be devised to prevent rash speculation with borrowed funds, which was chiefly responsible for the recent collapse of the market and the resultant widespread financial losses. It would be better if real values were placed behind loans on securities before paper values fade.

ECONOMY VINDICATED

Some people pooch-pooch governmental economy. They call it cheese-paring. They say it is materialistic and obstructs broader service to the people. Such pharisaical arguments stir the indignation of the administrator who is striving for real economy.

President Hoover looks on saving by the government as a means of releasing to every citizen a larger share of his own earnings and income, of benefiting him economically and also broadening his social and cultural opportunities. It brings about, in his opinion, an orderly and proportionate use of the resources of the people.

When the business organization of the federal government was formed and its purpose of committing the departments and bureaus—formerly cheerful spenders—to a policy of aggressive economy was frankly announced, many who attended the early gathering came to scoff. The organization has splendidly vindicated itself. The government machine has accommodated itself to the program of saving. It has even learned to like it, judging from the reports of prudent management and elimination of waste.

To create this spirit has been a remarkable achievement. The fruits of the retrenchment experiment have also been remarkable. The annual reaping of the harvest will come when the new congress takes up appropriations for the 1930 budget and the nation learns anew that in spite of the spoils system and political patronage, there is evidence of economizing in Washington.

At the meeting the other night in the usual place, it was agreed by the Sweet Adeline Singing Society that it would rather sit in the kitchen anyway than at an embassy dinner.

CRUEL NEURITIS IS PUT TO ROUT BY NEW KONJOLA

Other Ills, Too, Vanish Speedily When New and Different Medicine is Put to Test

MR. WILLIAM H. MILLER
"I had neuritis and kidney trouble so bad, that I had almost given up all hope of being well again," said Mr. William H. Miller, of Slatington, Pa. "Neuritis had such a hold on me that I could not lift my arms. At night I called in pain for someone to help me turn in bed. My back and legs were affected by constant and piercing pains. Because of weak kidneys I had to get up several times each night. "It seemed almost incredible, but it is true that in five weeks Konjola restored my kidneys to normal action, and in that time the very last sign of neuritis was driven from my body. If there are any who doubt this statement, I will be glad to verify it personally. Konjola will always be in my home, for it has meant health and happiness to me."
Konjola is sold in Bristol at Hoffman's Cut Rate store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—(Adv.)

It is all right to experiment but a pity to spend too much time experimenting when you might be enjoying the fragrant pleasure of smoking Camels.

It has been the experience of many smokers, after trying other brands, that Camels give constant and unfailing pleasure. Their mildness, due to choice tobaccos and expert blending, makes it possible to smoke them liberally without any tiring of the taste. NATIONAL AIR RACES MAY BE HELD IN PENNA.

Aviation Developments Go Forward With Great Strides

PLAN EVENTS FOR 1931

By Leo Dolan

L. N. S. Staff Correspondent
With aviation development going forward apace in Pennsylvania, leaders in the new industry are laying plans to bring the National Air Races, world's premier air event, to the Keystone State in 1931.

World famous flyers, both men and women, flying the latest and fastest model planes at Cleveland, drew mammoth crowds to the National Air Races in the Great Lakes city recently. These crowds contributed approximately $92,000 profit to the coffers of Ohio aviation, this money to be used in furthering aviation development in the Buckeye State.

This sum is not to be sneezed at and Pennsylvania aviation leaders do not intend to sneeze at it; in fact, they intend to make strenuous efforts to bring a like amount, or better if possible, to Pennsylvania. Ninety-some odd thousand dollars is the equivalent of a good deal of development work that could be undertaken if the National Air Meet is held in Pennsylvania in 1931.

The 1930 races already are slated for Chicago but the site for the next year's events is as yet unnamed. If negotiations now in progress are successfully consummated, that site will be Pittsburgh.

The Aero Club, of Pittsburgh has been invited to send representatives to Washington to attend the air mail conference on Nov. 25 when the advisability of beginning trans-continental air mail service over a Southern route will be discussed.

Pennsylvania's first women's flying school is rapidly rounding into shape at Butler where the Pennsylvania School of Aviation is completing arrangements for a flying curriculum at the Pittsburgh-Butler airport. Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden, winner of the Women's Air Derby, will be in charge of the women's section of the school.

Following preliminary negotiations of almost a year, authorization has been granted to purchase a 120-acre tract near Coatesville for the city's airport. A local company will be formed and stock issued to Coatesville citizens interested in the airport which will cost about $35,000.

LEGAL SEALED PROPOSALS

Public School Building for Bristol Township School District, Bristol Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of School Directors of Bristol Township for the erection of a new Grade School building, Bristol Road, Beaver and Prospect avenues, Bristol Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania.

Plans and specifications for the General Contract may be obtained on and after November 21st, 1929, from the Architects, Hoacock & Hokanson, 1211 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, upon the deposit of a CERTIFIED check for Fifty Dollars ($50.00) and an additional CERTIFIED check for Five Dollars ($5.00). The Fifty Dollar deposit will be returned upon the return of the plans and specifications to the Architects' office and the Five Dollar check to be retained by the Architects as payment for the use of the plans and specifications.

The Architects will furnish form for bidding. No bid will be considered unless submitted according to the form and schedule of proposal attached to the specifications.

A certified check or satisfactory bid bond for five per cent (5%) of the amount bid must accompany each bid. Checks and bonds will be returned after (after) awarding of contract.

A surety bond, as required by law, for the full amount of the contract price, conditioned upon the faithful performance of said contract in accordance with the plans and specifications, and an additional bond guaranteeing the payment on the part of the contractor of all bills of material and labor entering into the performance of this said contract, will be required to be furnished and filed with the Owners by the successful contractor.

All proposals must be sealed and marked:

"BID FOR GENERAL CONTRACT FOR SCHOOL BUILDING, BRISTOL TOWNSHIP, PENNA."

And shall be delivered to Mr. Arthur Seyfert, secretary of the Board of School Directors, at the Croydon Public School, Croydon, Pa., on or before 7:30 p. m., on Thursday, the twelfth day of December, 1929.

Bids will be opened at the Croydon Public School, Croydon, Penna., on Thursday, December twelfth, 1929, 8 p. m.

The Board of School Directors of said School District reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to accept or reject any or all alternatives.

GOLDEN EAGLES PREY OF EDDINGTON ELEVEN

(By T. M. Juno)

Eddington won its fourth straight victory in its home field Sunday when the Golden Eagles succumbed to them. The final score ended 25 to 0.

The touchdowns were scored in the first and last quarters. "Bud" David was credited with two while "Sid" Trott and a newcomer by the name of Faxis accounted for the other. Fagley drop-kicked one extra point.

"Bud" David, Trott on the offense, and Fagley and Earl on the defense starred for the winners. Gallagher and Singer showed up best for the losers. Next week Eddington plays the Frankford Diamonds and will probably end its season with the Bristol St. Ann's at Bristol.

Airplane Committee Members Conduct A Meeting Here

Members of the Curtis-Wright Airplane Engineering Committee held a business meeting at the plant of the Keystone Aircraft Corporation, here yesterday, followed by a luncheon and an inspection trip through the local plant and to the Keystone flying field.

The members present were: C. L. Lawrence, of the Curtis Wright Corporation; C. Talbot Porter, of the Keystone Corporation; T. P. Wright, of the Curtis Airplane and Motor Company; D. Sayre, of the Moth Airplane Corporation; H. Rawdon, of the Travel Air Company; and R. S. Damon, of the Curtis-Robertson Company. Others in attendance at the business session were: M. Warren and F. Smith, of the Moth Airplane Corporation; Captain F. F. Courtney, of the Curtis-Wright Corporation; and Captain White, of the Curtis Airplane and Motor Company.

The group arrived here at 10:35, special stops being made for the incoming and outgoing trip through the courtesy of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Immediately following the transaction of business a luncheon was served in the directors' room, with Edgar N. Gott, president of the Keystone Corporation, C. L. Roloson and Edward Malloy also in attendance.

The group inspected the first of the latest type Loening Amphibian Air Yachts, built recently in New York City. The craft was flown here yesterday by Erick Hoffman. The amphibian yacht was brought down into the waters of the Delaware River and then taxied up onto the land. Several demonstrations flights were made for the benefit of the group by Mr. Hoffman.

An inspection trip through the Keystone factory followed, and later a visit was made to the flying field where a recently completed plane of the Patrician type was looked over.

County Y. P. B. in Fall Institute at Newtown

The Fall Institute of the County Y. P. B., which convened at the New Century Club drawing rooms, Newtown, Saturday afternoon, proved to be most inspiring.

The session was presided over by Lester Bond. Other officers of the association are: Miss Hannah Scheffer, secretary; Harold Craven, treasurer; Miss Gladys Harper, county general secretary. The two meetings were opened by scripture reading and prayer by the evangelistic director, Raymond Hampton.

Among the demonstrations of department work was one on peace, presented by Raymond Hampton, Lester Bond, Gertrude Vandemere, Gladys Harper and Gertrude Tomlinson, all of Yardley.

An excellent talk on vocal music was given by Pauline Hooley, who suggested that small groups visit the county home and sick or shut-ins, and sing to them.

Miss Lenadell Wiggins, of Tunckhannock, general state Y. P. B. secretary, gave an inspiring address showing that if the United States wishes to earn more prizes for next year they must hustle as other countries are in friendly rivalry. The goal this year is 500 boys and 1,000 girls in Bucks County's Y. P. B.

A play depicting the aim and character of the Y. P. B. was presented by Miss Harper, Miss Meta Leedom, Harold Longshore and Frank Stack. Three young women and two young men recited for a grand gold medal, which was awarded to George Riley, of Richboro, who recited "The New American." The instrumental musical contest medal was presented to Ruth Turner, of Richboro.

James Killepp, of Philadelphia, state social Y. P. B. director, presented the county with a silver loving cup, and another to Yardley local, which had earned it in social work.

which play such a big part in the piling up of favorable trade balances. And from them he requested the same degree of cooperation that the government is willing to extend.

Specifically, Mr. Hoover sought from his conferees assurances that they will not embark on panicky retrenchment policies at this critical time.

Millions of American workmen are directly or indirectly dependent upon the men gathered in the cabinet room at the White House today for their continued employment. Curtailment of production means the loss of jobs to thousands, and that entails a loss in the country's purchasing power that can be measured in millions.
